

Wednesday 13th May - Science

Today I want you to freeze something. If you have any toy or plastic animals, then can you freeze one of those. (If you do not have one then ask your grown up what you are allowed to freeze)

Today I want you to predict (make a good guess) what would be the best way of freeing your animal.

In your book can you write down what you did

Then can you write I predict..... will be the best way of freeing my animal.

Tomorrow can you get your frozen animal out of the freezer. Can you use something sharp (check with your grown up and ask them to help you) can you free your animal? Write down your answer.

When I used something sharp.....

Then can you put some salt on it, what happened? Write that down.

When I put salt on.....

Then can you put some warm water on it, what happened? Write that down.

When I put warm water on.....

Now put it outside, what happened? Write that down.

When I put it outside.....

Now write your results

The best way to free my animal was.....

Were your predictions right?

If you are not allowed to freeze something then try and watch a clip about an animal in the north or south pole and write about that.

Have fun !
