

Thursday 4th June

July and August are also in Summer. Do you know what season comes next?

Today I would like you to watch the clip and then in your blue book can you write down what your monster would like to eat. Remember to use capital letters and full stops and the word and to link together two ideas. See if you can challenge yourself to write 3 sentences!

Maths

If you have some kitchen scales at home, you can try this activity. Pick 3 things from around your house. Put them in order from light to heavy. Now weigh them on your scales, were you right? If you don't have scales you can still estimate by holding them and putting them in order.
