

Friday 17th July

Today is the last day of your learning. Over the holidays remember to continue counting, adding and taking away, keeping a diary and writing lists. You could still do phonics play. Keep safe and I look forward to seeing you in September.

Try and do all the activities or save some for the summer holidays.

Some of the bitesize activities may stay up for a while in the holidays so make the most of this and try and do a little bit of learning each week.
