Happy Birthday to Masoomah for tomorrow! I hope you have a wonderful day celebrating safely at home with your family. We still have a few birthdays before September, including mine! It is such a long wait but always worth it.

I hope that you all have a wonderful weekend. On Monday we will have more shops open around the country but remember to keep your distance from other people if you are going out. I am really proud of all of you for being so sensible at the moment.

Today is challenge day, have a go at this position and direction challenge and have a go at Activity 1. If you want to do the other challenges, please have a go.

I would like you today to write some sentences to explain what you think went wrong for Captain Scott and write three reasons that the expedition failed. Somehow, they managed to get to the South Pole but they were not there first, which is something they wanted to do and they did not survive. Once you have written three reasons it went wrong, I would like you to write down something they could have done differently.
