

Year 2 Science

Weeks commencing Monday 29th June 2020.

This week we are going to look at a familiar story called The Three Little Pigs. Hopefully you all know this, but if you don't then watch this video below.

I would like you to make a new house for the pigs and see if it can be blown down. Here are some ideas that you might like to try making a house from then blowing it down using your own breath or even a hairdryer but remember to ask an adult first.

- Twigs
- Lego
- Playdough
- Paper
- Pencils

Challenge:

Think about which materials are better and why.
