

Hello Year 2,

Thank you again for all of your emails and post, it's so lovely to see and hear what you are up to. I know it can be tricky to keep going but we are close to the end of the Summer Term and you've worked so hard and have just a few days of work left.

Maths

Today is our last day of measurement and we will be looking at how we measure temperature. Temperature can be measured in minus number because it can be colder than 0°C, luckily we live in a country that doesn't get too cold very often.

English

Today I would like you to use the picture below to write some sentences about this piece of art by Picasso, he is my favourite artist. He was born in 1881 and died in 1973. Although he was Spanish, he lived in France for most of his life. Can you find those countries on a map?

If you are not sure where to start with your writing, have a go at answering these questions using full sentences.

What do you think this?

What do you think the painting is called?

How could you describe the way it looks?

How could you describe the colours and shapes used?

What do you think of it?
