

Year 2 Science

Weeks commencing Monday 13th July 2020.

This is our last science lesson for this term. I hope you have enjoyed learning about materials.

I would like you to see if you can find/think of different objects that fit into each of these different categories for sorting materials. In your books I would like you to draw an object for each box.

something stretchy	something see-through	something soft something waterproof	something hard	something magnetic
something squashy	something shiny	something bumpy
