

Friday 15th May

We've reached another Friday! Well done for all your hard work this week everybody. I am very proud of you all and I enjoy hearing about what you have been up to. It does not matter if you do not manage to complete all the tasks set, as long as you try your very best.

I hope you have a great weekend and try to do something to make it feel a little different to a 'school day'. Speak to you next week.

English

Did you find all my mistakes yesterday? I was worried that Mrs Swaysland would read it and think I've forgotten how to spell and use punctuation – but I don't think she noticed!!

Today we are learning when to use: there, their or they're. I know in class several of you get these mixed up, so it will be great practise for us all. Can you remember the name of words that are spelt differently, have different meanings but sound the same? Yes, that's correct – homophones. What other homophones can you think of? Night/knight, piece/peace, pear/pair.

Maths

The learning today is from the BBC site and is all about the 8 times table.

After you have completed this work maybe you could play some maths games to practise the new skills. Top marks is a great website for maths games. The link below should take you to some multiplication games. They should be laptop, tablet and phone friendly.
