

Tuesday 2nd June

Morning everyone,

I do hope that you managed to have a good half-term. The weather was amazing! We had the paddling pool out in the garden and played in it nearly every day. As a family we went on some woodland walks and we had a picnic too.

All the teachers are in school this week busily preparing for those children who are allowed to return. I know that some of you will be disappointed that Year 3 are not coming back yet and some of you will be relieved! I look forward to seeing you all soon – I miss your little faces. For now, Year 3, we will continue our learning this way and I will continue my phone calls home. Remember you can always contact me via the school office if you need anything, or if you miss my calls.

English

Our English lesson today comes from BBC bitesize and involves hearing a story called 'You're a bad man, Mr Gum' being read by Joanna Lumley. I hope you enjoy it. Follow the link to find the page and suggested activities.
