

Wednesday 1st July

Pinch, punch, first of the month. Can you believe it is July already? I have not seen some of you since the end of March. I am lucky that I have seen some of you whilst I have been out walking or popping to the shop as I do miss seeing you and chatting to you all.

Today you will also receive the Topic and Science work for the week.

English

Using prefixes in our writing is an important part of the Year 3 National Curriculum. Can you remember what a prefix is? A prefix are letters that go in front of a word that then change the meaning.

For example: un is a prefix. If you put un in front of happy, you get unhappy and this has the opposite meaning.

Can you name other prefixes? How about de, dis, auto, im, un, non.

Maths

Today we are going to be drawing lines and shapes. Remember to use your ruler and book or paper – whatever you have at home is perfect. Hope you enjoy this activity and can use all the correct words to describe the lines you draw.

Well done.
